

©Atemosfilm

SKRY

LIVE

A few sun rays manage to pierce the orange veil of a desert landscape, some acidic sounds rise and resonate as the last chants of a world in agony... SKRY's music seems to incarnate the perfect post-apocalyptic soundtrack. Yet it is in a mix of strong influences that he has forged his own sound.

Inspired by the world of freeparty and the artists who left their mark on this scene (FKY, MSD or Narkotek to name a few), it is first of all in a clever mix of acidcore and psy-trance that he finds his trademark sound.

Quickly noticed for his impressively complex sound-design productions, he does not hesitate to push his crossovers even further: next-gen tekno and speed house then come to complete his arsenal, resulting in the very unique futuristic style that we know today. A music whose strength and intensity is based on its pure hybrid aspect, between distorted kicks, psychedelic melodies and frenetic basslines.

CONTACT

booking@weird-planet.eu