

VIZIONN

With an uncompromised vision of electronic music - its harder edge especially - and a characteristic hyperactive energy, Vizionn has carved out his reputation on a multiplicity of solid projects over the past few years.

To name a few, he's one of the label-heads behind the famous french hard-techno imprint KTK Records, and he's also the artistic director & graphic designer of the Organik collective, that has recently been involved in some of the biggest Parisian warehouses. Besides that, he operates as a VJ and audiovisual artist, with notable video clips for the acid-duo 999999999 or Possession, among others. But let's just stick to music.

As a producer and DJ, his technical fluency allows him to fully express his creative originality while being unrestrained by genres or tempo limitations. With an undeniable taste for oldschool hardtrance, hardstyle and everything harder, he simply acts as if everything was fired off with a clear-sighted intention : bringing us all to this energetic and tirelessly euphoric moment.

A pure devotion to the dancefloor, made of reverse-basses, twisting acid lines and outrageously effective bangers.
